HERE'S HOTTEST RACE IN KENTUCKY TODAY

Circuit Judge's Contest In Laurel Jackson and Clay District Beats 'Em All

London, Ky., August 5—Boone Philpot was shot and killed at a political speaking in the eastern part of Laurel county last night, according to information received here today. Hugh Miller, of Clay county, is accused of the murder. He still is at large.

Miller is said to have threatened to shoot the Rev. Alex Profit, an aged Baptist minister, who was speaking for H. J. Johnson for circuit judge. Philpot, also an old man, is said to have tried to stop Miller, who, it is said, was under the influence of liquor. Miller, it is alleged, shot Philpot twice, killing him instantly.

Philpot is a member of the widely known family of that name in Clay county.

The city papers have contained dispatches from the papers of the district that the race for the republican nomination for Circuit Judge in the Pulaski-Rockcastle-Wayne and Clinton district is probably the hottest in the state.

They were never more mistaken. If there is a race anywhere that is exceeding that in the Laurel-Clay and Jackson counties district, no one can cite it. In that district Judge Wm. Lewis is opposed for renomination by Attorney Hiram J. Johnson. Both live at London, Laurel county.

The London Sentinel-Echo is making a vigorous fight for Mr. Johnson, and is printing the most bitter things imaginable against Judge Lewis. If half of the things that that paper says about Judge Lewis were printed in a paper in the blue grass, the editor would be run out of town forthwith.

Anyway, never was a more bitter contest seen anywhere. Johnson is posing as the candidate of the law and order element and trying to make the people believe that the moonshiners and bootleggers are behind Judge Lewis. Each issue of the London paper bristles with big headlines about enforcement of the law and that the shiners and whisky drinkers and bootleggers are for Lewis.

On the other hand, in the few advertisements that Judge Lewis has carried, he points out that there are just as many good lawabiding citizens for him as for his opponent. He is said to hold up the London paper at his speakings, and pointing out to many of his supporters who are men and women of integrity and standing, to ask them if they are bootleggers and moonshiners; that he is bound to think so from what Johnson says of his support.

The following cards under their pictures in the papers up there show the way the battle lines are being waged.

From Johnson's Card:
A vote for Hiram J. Johnson is a vote for the enforcement of law for the protection of home, life, school and church. A vote for him is a vote against the moonshine still, the blind tiger, the bootlegger, disturbed schools and churches. This is the way he would prove his friendship to the people.

From Judge Lewis' Card:
The people never close the door of hope on anyone, but some folks live so much into themselves that they close the political door upon themselves. We are told in the Holy Writ: "He that liveth unto himself dieth unto himself." The people of this judicial district should not and will not close the door of hope upon themselves or their children in their own faces by electing the representative of the big moneyed interest, big timber and big lumber interests, his railroad and corporatoin interest, judge of this district over the common people's friend. A vote for Judge Lewis is a vote for the poor man's friend; a vote for the L. & N. Railroad Company, the Rockcastle River Railroad Company, the Board-Foley Lumber Company, and the big corporations of the district.

The only way the people have to protect themselves from corporate wealth is by their ballots.

FOX HUNTERS AT COLLEGE HILL OCT. 17

The Central Kentucky Fox Hunters' Association will meet at College Hill, Madison county, the week beginning October 17, 1921. This annual gathering of the fox hunters of this immediate section always draws a crowd of men here and the boys are looking forward to a big time. Col. Barney Stone, of Mercer county, is president of this association and Tom Reeves, of this city, is secretary. Some splendid sport is expected at this year's gathering.

IMPORTANT MATTERS FOR THE VOTERS TO CONSIDER

Richmond, Ky., August 4

Editor Daily Register—After a verified study of Jeff D. Mitchell's recent announcement published in the Daily Register of his candidacy for nomination as Mayor of Richmond, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the primary to be held on the 6th day of this month, it is proper to call attention to some facts not therein mentioned. One of the most important to consider in this connection is the safe and satisfactory economic principles and good common-sense he and his administration put into effect in the conduct of the affairs of our city during the time he was its former Mayor.

Mr. Mitchell has held, and satisfactorily discharged the duties incident to several important positions of trust in this town, among some of which may be mentioned that he was a member of the City Board of Education for a term or more, a part of the time was President of that Board. He served for one term as City Tax Collector, and for four years was Street Commissioner.

In addition to this extensive experience in and with the public affairs of our town, Mr. Mitchell is and has been a close reader and student of literature relating to the conduct of municipal affairs, and a close observer of such in this and other places.

The Mayor, in addition to the usually recognized duties appertaining to that office, under the Charter (the Constitution) of Richmond, is made the head of the City police force, and conservator of public peace, and charged with the enforcement of the law in the city—expressed in Statute and Ordinance. This Mr. Mitchell did when he was formerly Mayor of Richmond, and we are satisfied he will again do so as its Mayor; and also, as he formerly did, will cause to be discharged the legal duty incumbent on the Council, of having the proper official reports made monthly and quarterly, disclosing the financial condition of the City—its income and the disbursements of City funds. Every taxpayer (man and woman) wants to and ought to know about these matters, and it is the requirement of the law that such information be made public.

In addition to his general qualifications for the office, Mr. Mitchell is not seeking the office as a sideline in his affairs of life, and judging the future by the past, he will see that every City official comes up to the full measure of the duties appertaining to his or her office. This and the other facts above mentioned should not be overlooked by the voter in casting his or her influence and vote for the redemptive good and best welfare of our proud little City—an incorporated municipality, in which all of us are the active, working and paying stockholders seeking to draw therefrom the dividends of a cleaner, saner, more satisfied and greater Richmond.

184 21 COMMITTEE

Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffer Tailor of New York and Newport, R. I., who will be hosts to President and Mrs. Harding at "Honeysuckle Lodge," the Tailor residence at Newport. The date of the President's visit to Newport has not yet been announced.

NORRIS FAMILY HOLD PLEASANT REUNION

A most enjoyable affair was the Norris reunion which was held Wednesday at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Norris. About fifty guests, all kin folks, assembled, all bringing well filled baskets of all kinds of good things to eat. Showers at noon prevented the spreading of dinner under the large shade trees as was planned, but was spread in the dining room instead and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. After dinner there was base ball and croquet to amuse the younger folks, swings for the little people while the older folks grouped about under the trees and enjoyed each other's society. Just before leaving for home pictures were made, all feeling it was good to have been there, and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Norris for their kind hospitality and hoping that all may meet again some day in the same way.

Those from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brandenburg, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. J. Chambers and daughter, Lee Royston, of Providence; Mr. Dora Griggs, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. Walker Norris, of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Pearson Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Hill, Mr. and Wm. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Burton, Mr. and Mrs. John Willoughby, Mr. Layton Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. John Willoughby, Mr. Lee Hill, Miss Nancy Norris, Miss Mattie Hill, Misses Eugenia, Georgetown, Evelyn Norris, Miss China Norris, Miss Young, A. W. Norris, Harry Norris, Miss Hazel Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Younger Norris, all of College Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Griggs and family, of Lexington.

Capture Discloses What It Takes To Make 'Shine'

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 5—Following is the inventory of a movable wagon distillery found in the brush 14 miles from Mayfield, for the operation of which J. H. Strong and Dan Huges are held. Ten-gallon copper still, coiling tank, overhead leading pipe of copper, copper coil worm, seven mash barrels, one glass pitcher, two large stone jars, lantern, wash tub, iron kettle, wagon sheet and outfit for cooking. Soaked corn, wheat bran and mash were destroyed. Strong gave the sheriff a receipt for making moonshine.

MAUPIN HEIRS BUY THEIR FATHER'S HOME

The children of Dr. John W. Maupin bought in his farm home on Silver Creek at the sale conducted by the Freeman Realty Company Thursday morning. The 105 acres brought $128 an acre, which was considered a good figure, considering present conditions. The heirs are Messrs. Cull and John Maupin, Mrs. Farris, Mrs. Allen. There was good crowd present and the bidding was spirited. The sale went off smoothly and seemed to please all. Col. Long Tom Chenault was on the block and conducted the sale in his usual finished style.

MADISON GIRL HURT IN AUTO WRECK

The Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph had the following which will be of much interest here as the Mrs. Raydon mentioned is a niece of Miss Nanette Norris, of College Hill, and has other warm friends and relatives in Madison. It said:

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Raydon, of 713 West Locust street, and 3-year-old daughter, Della, and Mr. and Mrs. Ishman Baxter, of 105 East Kelsey street had a narrow escape from death at 7 o'clock yesterday morning when the Ford car driven by Mr. Raydon broke a steering rod and plunged twelve feet from a bridge on the state road near Tremont, pinning the occupants of the car beneath. People passing gave aid, and summoned medical assistance from Tremont. After first aid was administered the party was able to proceed to their homes, where further aid was given. Mr. Raydon was the most painfully injured and it is feared that the injuries may be serious, although it will not be possible to determine the full extent for several days. Mrs. Raydon was painfully, but not seriously hurt, and Della was badly bruised about the head.

Mr. Baxter suffered severe cuts and bruises, the skin being scraped from the left leg, and his left hand was badly cut. Mrs. Raydon alone escaped injury. The two machines started early in the morning for a fishing trip on the Illinois river and were driving toward Pekin when the accident happened.

Miss Edith Hunter, of West Virginia, is a guest of relatives in the county.

SUGGESTS DOUGLAS TO SUCCEED GANFIELD

Clarence E. Woods Urges Selection of Man Who Married Here and Is Well Known

His many friends here were interested to read a letter in the Lexington Herald from former Mayor Clarence E. Woods, now of Florida, suggesting the name of Dr. Rutherford Douglas for the presidency of Centre College to fill the vacancy caused by Dr. Ganfield's resignation. Dr. Douglas has many warm friends here. He married Miss Amy Letcher, of Madison county. What Mr. Woods says of him will be read with interest:

Editor Lexington Herald: Again the presidency of Centre College is vacant. Again I recommend to the trustees the name of Rev. Dr. Rutherford E. Douglas for the presidency. He possesses all that is required to build up the school numerically and financially. Its reputation is fixed, but it needs more students than anything else. Dr. Douglas is a Kentuckian-born, a distinguished graduate of that institution he would be called upon to guide, and has a following in the south which more than all other sections must support the school. Two of his ancestors were honored presidents of Centre College and their old students and descendants and friends would feel a new impulse of activity were this brilliant son of old Centre called to the helm.

For perhaps 20 years Dr. Douglas has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Macon, Ga., has been living in the college atmosphere all his life, and no man of my acquaintance has such a hold upon the hearts of young men, for he is one of them in every way.

In the pulpit, on the playground, in social circles, among the hunters and fishers, lovers of good horses, and among the general run of mankind on the street, in the shops and on the farms, Rutherford Douglas is a veritable magnet, drawing all to him by the sweetness of his temperament, his adaptability to all conditions and circumstances, winning favor with all classes. Having in mind the increasing number of students of Central University, without which she must sit in the shade of larger and wealthier institutions, I urge consideration of Dr. Douglas for president, descendant of presidents, graduate of the institution, man among men and boy among boys.

CLARENCE E. WOODS, Eustis, Fla., July 31, 1921.

INSPECT OFFICE OF FEDERAL CLERK HERE

Many high compliments were passed upon the conduct of the local federal clerk's office by Deputy Clerk Miss Sara Monday, by two U. S. Inspectors here this week from Washington. They went carefully over all her records, books, etc., and found them all in apple-pie order, and they congratulated her upon the efficiency which she manifests in the discharge of her duties in this office. The inspectors here from the Department of Justice at Washington were M. C. Masters and a Mr. Rosenbaum.

DR. HOMER CARPENTER SEES MAYOR EVANS

Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, who was in Lexington Friday, called at the Good Samaritan Hospital to see Mayor Evans. He also met Dr. Bullock, the Mayor's physician. After talking with them both, Dr. Carpenter called the Daily Register over the telephone and said:

"I thought friends of Mayor Evans would be glad to know that I saw him and found him cheerful and in good spirits. He asked me to send his greetings to his host of good friends in Richmond."

"Dr. Bullock told me that Mayor Evans is improving daily, although still quite ill. But Dr. Bullock says he is on the road to recovery and he is well satisfied with his condition and improvement."

"I know all this will be good news to the friends at home."

MAYOR EVANS' RACE IN HANDS OF HIS FRIENDS

Mayor Evans sends the following to the Daily Register with request to print:

To My Friends:—Unable to see you in the closing days of the campaign because of illness, I want to express my deep appreciation of your loyalty and friendship. I know you will stand firm and true till the race is over, and am trusting it all to your hands. My heart goes out to all the good people of Richmond for their manifold kindnesses to me, and especially at this time.

TO THE VOTERS OF RICHMOND

My opponents for the office of Mayor do not seem to realize that we are confronted with a condition and not a theory. No remedy has been suggested for a betterment of the financial condition whereby the tax rate, already burdensome, can be maintained at a reasonable rate. An ever-increasing tax rate, in the face of declining prices, will drive people from our town, depreciate our property valuation and make it impossible for a poor man to own a home. You cannot operate upon a plan, however good, that suited conditions 30 years ago nor do I believe the citizens want a continuance of our present system of extravagance and waste and lack of practical business methods.

The city has a bonded debt of $225,000.00, the limit. The General Expense Fund is overdrawn in round numbers, $30,000.00; an agreement whereby they can borrow $2,000 for payment of a sewer which only leads to future law suits and a judgment for $4,000 pending in the Court of Appeals, which we are almost certain to lose, making a possible indebtedness, over and above the outstanding bonds, of about $35,000. We have an unfinished sewerage system emptying on top of the ground which is a menace both to health and property.

Now what are we going to do? We can not go on spending lavishly with no thought for the future. We must have an adjustment of affairs and after careful study of the question, there can be but one conclusion and that is Practical Economy.

The official salary list (outside of special fees and extra gratuities) amounts to $13,000 per year. Under our present system there are eight officeholders, not including six councilmen, four police and two firemen. The law only requires four. Now, it is possible to abolish some of these offices and so distribute the work that each employe may do a fair days work at a fair wage and thus effect a saving of at least $3,500 per year. This plan will in no way affect the system now in effect of checking and safeguard-

PHONES MUST GO TO PRE-WAR RATES

City Council Notifies Company To Reduce Charges Within Sixty Days

Pre-war telephone rates will soon prevail in Richmond again. At the regular meeting of the City Council Thursday night, a resolution was adopted giving the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company the necessary 60-days' notice that the rates on phones in the city must go back to the rates which prevailed before the war-time increase was allowed by the Council. This will naturally be good news to all phone users.

In the absence of Mayor Evans, Councilman C. B. Terrill again presided with dignity in the executive chair.

The usual official reports were read and bills paid. The session was an unusually short one.

MRS. BRYANT HOLMES SUCCEUMBS AT MILLION

Mrs. Bryant Holmes died at her home at Million Thursday night, aged 76 years. She was the widow of the late Bryant Holmes, who for 27 years was a prominent merchant at Million, and who preceded her to the grave about 9 years ago. She was beloved by everyone in the community and her loss will be deeply felt. Funeral services had not been arranged as the Daily Register goes to press.

SOUTHERN SUPPORT FOR HEALTH PROGRAM

Pledged By Officials In Capital,
Who Deny Reports of Famine In South

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 5.—A resolution pledging "support of the health authorities and people they represent in the south," to a constructive program for coordination of all federal public health and welfare activities in one department, was adopted by a conference of southern health officers in connection with the pellagra inquiry initiated by President Harding.

The health officials also made a formal report denying a condition of approaching famine or plague in the South. They held that erroneous or misleading statements had been made to the public about the alleged prevalence of pellagra. After making an investigation, the report recited, "using all available information we do not believe the situation warrants or should occasion any undue alarm." And adds that an increase in pellagra cases is expected in certain southern localities but evidence is unmistakable the average of mortality will be less than for a number of years.

Blakely was extremely active as a member of the Covington patriotic league.

MORGAN HUGHES SAYS KEEP FLOCK OF EWES

Every farmer who can do so ought to have a small bunch of ewes at least, declares Morgan O. Hughes, special agent in marketing of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture in a statement issued to Mr. Bell, President of the Louisville Live-stock Exchange, in support of the Farmer's Better Sire Sale of 200 purebred Lucks and ewes and 2,000 high grade sheep to be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville, August 11. Mr. Hughes during the war earned the nationwide title of "Farmers Friend."

Mr. Hughes' statement follows:

"I am very much pleased that you are going to hold this pure bred buck and ewe sale in August. In my forty years experience in farming I have never had anything that paid better than a small bunch of ewes. I think I have only missed one or two years in forty years in carrying a bunch of ewes and do not recollect having failed to make money on them except one year.

"I think every farmer in Kentucky who can do so ought to have a small bunch of ewes. Not too many, as we find they do better in small bunches. It is rather inadvisable to have as many as a hundred ewes in one flock when fifty or even seventy-five do much better.

"While it is alright to have a grade bunch of ewes it is very important to have a buck of such Down breeds as Shropshire, Hampshire, Southdown and Oxford, no farmer should be satisfied without a pure bred buck. I have had very good success, indeed, in what we call the mountain ewes, but in recent years have been using the high grade ewes that come from St. Louis or Chicago, and have found them very satisfactory indeed."

WANT BILLY SUNDAY AT THE STATE FAIR

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 4.—Billy Sunday, noted evangelist, will be an attraction at the Kentucky State Fair, if the plans of W. C. Hanna, State Commissioner of Agriculture, and the State Board of Agriculture are fulfilled, it was announced today. It is hoped, according to Mr. Hanna, to have Mr. Sunday dedicate the new Agriculture, Merchants and Manufacturers building.

Whether or not the noted evangelist will come to Kentucky for the occasion has not been determined, Mr. Hanna said, but the prospects are believed to be good. Efforts to get Man O' War, the world famous race horse, which is now in stud at Hiana Farm, appear to have been futile, Commissioner Hanna said. Samuel Riddle, owner of the animal, who is said to have refused $500,000 for him, seems loath to risk the horse in shipping him to Louisville.

Mrs. Johnson N. Camden may send Light Brigade, her famous stallion, to the exhibition.

A fist fight was narrowly averted between John Skelton Williams and Governor Harding over criticism of the Federal over criticism of the Federal in Washington Wednesday.

MY LAST SAY TO THE VOTERS OF RICHMOND

Someone acting in his own behalf and claiming to represent a committee of Richmond voters, asks to visit the police court and see the orderly and intelligent manner the court is waited upon, and that the candidate in whose behalf the article was prepared, is amused at the great moral issue raised in my race for the Chief of Police.

Visit the Police Court by all means and note the good order and conduct therein; but at the same time visit other and especially neglected parts of our city and note the absolute want of good order, and where the boot-legger and gambler flourisheth, and at this very moment are bending every energy to bring about my defeat. Is that the connived-at-gang the ministers of our city are in sympathy with and will rejoice the see the present conditions stand as in the months and years gone by?

Yes, I have injected into this race the greatest, most wonderful and Christlike issue in the world—the moral issue of making our town a clean, healthy and moral place for the homes, churches and schools of its resident men, women and children. To do this, my voters, we must have other things than orderly police courts, concrete pavements and men at the head of your police department who are amused at a great, living moral issue. Respt., JAMES P. POTTS.

Candidate for Chief of Police.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 4.—Although has three main line railroads and half a dozen branch lines reaching to various parts of Eastern Kentucky, the automobile truck has become one of the big means of spreading trade territory within a radius of 100 miles, according to wholesale houses here. IS GLAD SHE TOOK ADVICE OF MOTHER

Latonia Woman Has Wasted Away Till She Was Little More Than a Shadow

"Since Tanlac restored me to health a year ago I buy a bottle occasionally for some friend I hear complaining and it has never failed to help them," said Miss Lottie Eldred, 706 West Thirty-fifth street, Latonia, Ky.

"I had wasted away as a result of stomach trouble until I was little more than a shadow. For two years I suffered untold misery from indigestion. After meals I would bloat up until I could scarcely breathe. I was extremely nervous, could not sleep much at night and felt more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I had fallen off thirty pounds in weight and was getting weaker every day."

"I took Tanlac on my mother's advice and it did exactly what she said it would do. In less than two months time I was feeling just fine and had gained 36 pounds, making me six pounds heavier than when my troubles first began, and ever since then I have been in the very best of health. I wish every sick man, woman and child in this city knew about Tanlac so that they might get well and strong again by taking it."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son and leading druggists.

NEARLY DIED ON BIRTHDAY

"On my last birthday, eight months ago, I had another close call. We had just finished dinner. My stomach began to hurt me, a minute later I was unconscious. Three doctors worked with me. I was soaked with a cold sweat when I came to. The next week, telling a friend about it and he advised trying Mayo's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking a course of your medicine I have been able to eat anything. I have no more pains or bloating and am feeling better than for ten years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Will Appreciate Your Vote and Support for the DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR Commonwealth Attorney

in the Primary, Saturday, August 6, 1921

Rotation in office is both Democratic and best for the people. Trusting that I shall not be considered presumptuous in tending my services to fill this high office "so ably filled by my opponent" for the past 30 years, at which rate only three of Kentucky's sons could perform the duties of this position of honor and opportunity in a century.

Richmond, Kentucky, August 1, 1921

Dear Friend:—

As you know the primary election to nominate democratic candidates for county offices will be held on Saturday, August 6th. The polls will be open at 6 o'clock and will close at 4 o'clock.

As a candidate for the democratic nomination for Sheriff I have tried to see as many voters as possible, and I am very anxious to have your support and influence in my race. I want to assure you that if I am nominated and elected to the office of Sheriff that I will devote all of my time and energy and what capacity I have to the faithful performance of the duties of that office.

I will be your active, acting Sheriff and I will try to enlist the interest and support of all law abiding citizens to aid me in the discharge of my duties as the chief peace officer of the county, and promise you and all persons interested in law and order that I will accord to everybody alike courteous, fair and just treatment.

I believe I have the confidence and support of a large number of the best citizens of the county. I will be running until the polls are closed on Saturday, August 6th, and I want to ask you to vote for me and to do all you can to get those who believe I should win to come to the polls and vote. I assure you that I will appreciate your vote and anything you can do for me on election day. Go to the polls early, take a little time, if you can, to see to it that my friends get out and vote.

I am especially anxious that the good women as well as the men, shall have an opportunity to express themselves at the polls. I am anxious to have my candidacy submitted to the fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of the county, and shall confidently await the result of their ballots. If you will help me in this matter I will be grateful to you and shall be eager for every opportunity to evidence that gratitude by deeds and not by words alone.

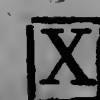

With every expression of friendly regard and personal esteem, I am

Gratefully Yours,

ELMER DEATHERAGE.

Stories of Great Scouts

HOW "LIVER-EATIN'" JOHNSON GOT HIS NAME

Among the scouts who were with Gen. Nelson A. Miles, when that officer inflicted his crushing defeat upon the Sioux chief, Crazy Horse, at the battle of Wolf Mountain, Mont., in 1877 was one bearing the strange name of "Liver-Eatin'" Johnson. Johnson was a powerful Norwegian, weighing more than 300 pounds and standing six feet, three inches in his moccasined feet. He had a great shock of golden hair of which he was very proud—so much so, that he refused to wear a hat, and when he went into battle with this golden mane in the wind, he looked like an ancient Norse viking.

Johnson had won his name in a gruesome way. Two stories about this are told, differing slightly in detail, but agreeing in the main facts. One tells how a party of Indians had raided a trading post on the Mussel-shell River, but were driven off with heavy loss. It is said that Johnson, in a spirit of devilish bravado, cut out the livers of several of the dead warriors and actually ate them.

The other story seeks to justify Johnson's act. A Cheyenne chief had raided and burned Johnson's camp while he was away on a trapping expedition. When he returned and saw the ruins, he swore that he would kill the Cheyenne and eat his liver. Later he made good his threat. Either account may be correct, so far as details are concerned. At any rate, he was ever afterward known as "Liver Eatin'" Johnson.

Johnson's inseparable companion was "X" Beldier of Montana vigilante fame. Beldier disapproved of Johnson's lack of headgear and called him a "halter-headed Injun," because, as he said, "every decent white man wears some sort of 'cover' for his scalp." But Johnson was firm in his convictions, and in the fight with Crazy Horse's Sioux he justified himself to his own satisfaction, at least.

As Beldier and Johnson charged up the snow-clad slopes of Wolf Mountain that morning against entrenched Indians, a bullet cut a furrow through Liver-Eatin's hair, "like a pair of red-hot sheep shears," as he said.

"Now you see," he exclaimed to his "partner," "if I'd had a hat on, it'd bin plumb ruined!"

Little is known of Johnson's later history. He was a scout at Fort Custer 1881, when the young chief Sisseton tried to stir up the Crows against the whites and scouted for the troops during that brief war. After that he seems to drop out of history.

HAD NO GUN

Matewan, W. Va., August 4.—Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers, Mingo mountaineers killed on the steps of the court house at Welch in a gun fight last Monday, were unmarried, their widows said in a statement today. The women were with their husbands when the shooting occurred. Both women said their husbands did not anticipate trouble and had locked their pistols in their traveling bags. "I heard a shot," said Mrs. Chambers, "and saw Sid falling. I looked at my husband and he was falling, too. Then the shooting became general."

REDS COURT ORIENT

Soviet Russia Pushing Friendship With Near East.

Lenin Exchanges Presents With Asiatic Rulers as Did Monarchs of Ancient Days.

Riga, Latvia.—Recent arrivals from Moscow declare that the world little realizes how closely soviet Russia is pushing its friendship with the Near East.

In Moscow the Turkish legation occupies one of the most sumptuous of the old palaces and the personnel, garbed in faultless European clothes, present a strange contrast to the poorly garbed Muscovites. The Afghans and other Near East delegations also occupy luxurious quarters, give elaborate banquets and otherwise carry on with all the pomp of the old eastern courts. Members of Premier Lenin's government are frequently guests at these affairs and entertain the legation members equally lavishly in return.

Besides this, M. Lenin has so accommodated himself to the psychology of the East that he now exchanges presents with the rulers of Turkey, Persia, etc., as did the rulers of ancient days.

A Moscow dispatch today reads like a paragraph of fairy tale which might have been an ancient tablet of hieroglyphics describing the visit of a Babylonian envoy to King Cyrus of Persia. It runs:

"The representative of the soviet government has made his first official visit to the shah of Persia, presenting to the shah on a golden salver an album with photographs of soviet leaders of the whole of Russia as a personal present to the shah from Lenin."

A man who recently arrived from Moscow said:

"Few persons realize what a close connection now exists between Russia and its old enemy, Turkey, and for that matter all of the Near East. M. Lenin is accomplishing here what the old Russian government could not do by playing up to eastern psychology."

"The so-called bolshevism in those eastern countries is nothing at all like the bolshevism of Moscow, but in each case the Russian agitators have a distinct brand of propaganda designed to dovetail with ancient customs of the country in question. For instance, in regions where the trade in hazzards is a century-old custom, no agitation against free trade has been made."

DOG HERO AGAIN HONORED

"Stubby," famous American Expeditionary Force mascot, was awarded General John J. Pershing another medal in addition to his already long string of medals. It was a gold medal presented by the Humane Education society. "Stubby" was the official mascot of the American Expeditionary Forces and has been decorated many times, including medals from foreign monarchs. He wears two wound stripes, having been twice wounded on the battle field. Photo shows "Stubby" after his new decoration.

FRENCH AIR FLEET PROPOSED

Bill Advocates Force of Commercial Planes Readily Convertible for War Purposes.

Paris.—A fleet of 1,000 airplanes, suitable for war, is proposed in a bill now before the chamber of deputies. It is planned to establish and operate these aircraft commercially, so that the cost to the government would be little if any more than under its present policy.

The author of the measure, Deputy Paul Benazet, called attention to the large and expensive aviation personnel of the government "which consumes but does not produce."

Strongly advocating the creation of a great protecting aerial force, M. Benazet urged that the government create a corporation to operate commercially, transporting passengers and freight and establishing air postal routes, thus training aviators, developing aviation, cementing relations with the colonies and meantime keeping the fleet ready for immediate conversion to war purposes.

KENTUCKY FARMERS REAP RICH HARVEST.

Revenue from Breeding Thoroughbred Horses Only Profit to Be Depended Upon.

Sale of Blooded Colts Produces Money When Other Products Bring Loss.

The Kentucky farmer has lost money on his wheat and corn; he is forced to ship his cattle and hogs to a losing and constantly falling market; and his losses on his tobacco have nearly driven him into bankruptcy. The calamities of a troubled world are placed upon his back, already bent double by its burdens.

Under these untoward conditions, the one fortunate exception among farmers is the stock raiser who owns one or more thoroughbred mares. He always finds a nation-wide demand for his thoroughbred foals. The yearling at its mother's side frequently brings him $500 to $1,000, while the yearling will sell for from $1,500 to $10,000; a colt from a Jefferson county farm having brought, at one of the recent Saratoga sales $25,000.

Year in and year out, the Kentucky thoroughbred finds a ready market. Buyers from all over the world coming to this State to secure material to improve the horses of their respective countries or localities. Owner Riddle refused $500,000 for Man-O-War, a horse bred by Mr. August Belmont in Old Kentucky. A wonder horse is Man-O-War. A smasher of all records and victor over all opponents that made some of the most brilliant of turf history, he has been returned to his native heath, there to perpetuate his great qualities. Last month, Man-O-War's full brother, Playfellow, by name, was sold for $115,000; and not long ago, John E. Madden refused $125,000 for a half interest in the Kentucky-bred stallion, Prior Rock, now in the stud at Hamburg Place, near Lexington.

Numerous other thoroughbred stallions and mares of nearly, if not quite, priceless value are owned in the State. Wheat, corn and tobacco are often crop failures, and cattle and hogs are frequently raised at a loss. But the thoroughbred has a great permanent value, for nowhere else in this country is he brought to such perfection as in Kentucky, and his fame and the demand for him are world-wide.

For Representative

D. Willis Kennedy, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the Legislature, is the only soldier boy running in the democratic county primary to be decided next Saturday.

He will make an admirable representative at Frankfort, and the farmers and taxpayers may rest assured that he will safeguard their interests at every turn.

He pledges himself to fight any and every movement that would increase your taxes—just as he fought the Hun in France.

He pledges himself to do everything in his power to secure lower taxes, to abolish useless offices, to effect all possible economies and work for the interests of the taxpayers constantly, faithfully and efficiently.

You trusted him when you sent him to France to save your homes. You can trust him at Frankfort to save every dollar of your money from taxes that is possible. High taxes and extravagance in the cost of government are the burdens that are proving more than the farmer can bear.

Here is a candidate who looks you in the eye and tells you he will fight your cause, Mr. Taxpayer.

And he will make good. He has never failed yet to keep his word, and he won't fail you this time, if you give him this slight honor.

RIVER TRAFFIC HAS ALMOST DISAPPEARED

Once Flourishing Little Town
Along Its Banks Are Now
Only Memories

(By Associated Press)
High Bridge, Ky., August 4—Although the Kentucky river has been converted into a canal from above Beattyville, near its source to Carrollton, where it runs into the Ohio river, comparatively little use is being made of the stream, according to river men and others living along its banks. The cost of the United States government of the locks and dams whereby the river was made navigable throughout the year, ran into scores of millions of dollars and the annual upkeep amounts to many thousands of dollars yearly.

The Kentucky river once hummed with industry. Scores of little towns, springing up around steamboat landings, flourished along its banks and hundreds of thousands of tons of freight were carried on its waters annually. Before the advent of the gasoline engine, thousands of men gained a living rafting logs from the mountains of eastern Kentucky to Frankfort and other points along the lower river. Now a single gasoline tugboat will handle twenty to thirty rafts of logs with five or six men to ten them. This same tow, in the old days, would have required four or five men to the raft to keep the logs in the channel and floating with the stream.

At one time Brooklyn (now known as Brooklyn Bridge) four miles below here, was a thriving little town with 400 to 500 inhabitants. It had a large gristmill, sawmills, coal yards, storage warehouses, a distillery and other industrial institutions. Farmers from miles around hauled their wheat and other farm products to Brooklyn for shipment to the outside world, those living in Mercer county, on the opposite side of the stream from the main wharves, hauling their products to a bluff on that side, and there, according to Matt Sweitzer, for fifty years a resident of the place, the sacks were loaded on an overhead tramway and thus transported across the river to avoid the heavy bridge tolls. Today there remains nothing of Brooklyn except the bridge, built more than fifty years ago and still in use, and the old turnpike toll house. Three houses and a grocery store at the place are of more recent construction. The bridge light tender (the man who hangs out the lights to guide navigation under the piers) lives in the old toll house.

When Brooklyn was at its height as a small industrial center, the Cincinnati Southern Railway Company built its line thru Lexington, Nicholasville and Wilmore and across the river at what is now known as High Bridge. This bridge, at that time, was the highest in the world, its span reaching from bluff to bluff across the river gorge and standing more than 300 feet above the water. This bridge opened up the country to railroad traffic and the decline of river traffic in this section started. At Brooklyn a great fire destroyed much of the industrial activity and several residences at the place. Then in 1885 the "Big Tide"—the greatest flood in the history of the Kentucky valley—swept through, washing away the remaining sawmills and warehouses. The town was virtually abandoned and today it is notable for its scenic wonders, the high cliffs and beautiful drives that mark the descent from the high country on both sides of the river to the level of the valley.

In the later days also the gasoline engine has contributed to lessening what isolation may have been suffered by the river country. Besides hauling great tows of logs and in rush times barges of coal on the river, the gasoline engine hitched to wheels in the form of automobile trucks has become a fixture as a land freight carrier. A number of Central Kentucky wholesale houses have trucks which make regular trips through the country, supplying small stores and farm houses with groceries, gasoline, bakery products and hauling produce and other freight to points not reached by railroads, or to points which can be more quickly reached by truck.

8 CIRCUIT JUDGES NOT CANDIDATES

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., August 5—Twenty-five of the forty-two circuit judges who will serve in Kentucky during the six years beginning in January 1922, will be virtually elected at the primary election throughout the state tomorrow. In 23 districts and two of the seven courts in Jefferson county, candidates offering on one or the other of the major tickets will have no opposition.

The only chance for opposition for these candidates is from independents who may be placed on the ballots by petition. In a verbal statement today Assistant Attorney General Logan stated that under the Kentucky primary law no candidate could be placed under the emblem of either of the major parties on the ballot at the November election, who is not nominated at the primary. In the event of a candidate being placed on the ballot as an independent, however, the party having no candidate can give its formal endorsement, although this cannot appear on the ballot.

In thirteen judicial districts and five of the branches of the Jefferson Circuit Court (thirtieth district) both parties will have separate nominees, barring the possibility that in a few instances candidates who have offered on both tickets under the bipartisan judiciary law may be nominated by both parties.

No Republican candidates have offered in the first, second, third, fifth, seventh, ninth, tenth, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, eighteenth and nineteenth districts, while no Democrats have offered in the eighth, twentieth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, twenty-ninth, thirty-second, thirty-third and thirty-fourth districts. In the twenty-first district Judge Henry E. Prewitt, of Mt. Sterling, has offered on both tickets without opposition, while in the first and second divisions of the Common Pleas branches of the thirtieth district Judges W. H. Fields and Thomas R. Gordon have offered on both tickets without opposition.

Of the candidates for nomination thirty-four are incumbents of the office in their respective districts.

Circuit Judges who have not offered for renomination and election include Emk Gardner, Mayfield, first district; W. M. Reed, Paducah, second district; McKenzie, Bowling Green eighth district; L. P. Fryer, Butler, eighteenth district; Charles Kerr Lexington, twenty-second district; J. K. Roberts, Beattyville, twenty-third district; W. T. Davis, Pineville, twenty-sixth district; Allen N. Cisco, Grayson, thirty-second district.

WHAT CLAUDE DEVORE'S FRIENDS SAY

To the Voters of the City of Richmond:—

It is a matter of vast importance that you not overlook the race for Chief of Police when you go to the polls on next Saturday. We assume that the great majority of our people are interested in law enforcement and that the law violator is greatly in the minority in this little city.

Now, we are not much concerned with the glittering promises of political candidates generally but we are concerned with the past record of a man when we hope to find an insight into what might be expected of him if elected. Will you not take into sober consideration all of the past record of Claude Devore. Visit the police court and see the orderly and intelligent manner in which he waits upon the court and note the perfect order that he keeps there. Go out and talk with the law breakers of the city and see if they want Devore re-elected. He is a terror to the law violator and always has been. There is not a large city in this commonwealth that would not be proud to have a man of his ability at the head of their public safety department and the people of Richmond should voice their appreciation of him at the ballot box with not only enough votes to elect him but a majority that will give to him the compliment which he justly deserves.

We are somewhat amused that some of his opponents are making a great moral issue of the race for this office. There need be but one answer to that camouflage and that can be answered with a question. You cannot find a minister of the gospel in this city who will not be glad to endorse Claude Devore as the best Chief of Police that Richmond ever had since it became a city.

Now, men and women of Richmond, we hope those of you who really want a good clean city and who honestly want to see the laws enforced, will go to the polls Saturday and cast your ballot for this big, brave and efficient officer who deserves an endorsement at your hands.

(Respectfully submitted without the knowledge of Mr. Devore by a committee of voters with no personal interest in the election.)

THE WHITTLERS

Still sit in the shade and talk of things getting back to pre-war levels, normalcy, etc.

Getting back is a weak-kneed slogan that Americans have never adopted and never will. Would you want to go back to the Richmond of a few years ago with its mud, dust, and profanity?

In the last few years Richmond has been moving forward and it is up to the voter to keep things moving.

L. P. Evans pulled Richmond out of the mud and started things moving in the right direction. Now is the time to push ahead and stop talking about getting back.

Contributed without knowledge of Mr. Evans by advocates of a better Richmond

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF RICHMOND

As is now known to all the citizens of Richmond, I am a candidate for the nomination to the office of Chief of Police at the August primary, subject to the democratic voters of this city.

I am a life-long and loyal democrat, believing in the traditions and principles of that party, and as such candidate under the primary election law, have to appeal to the democratic men and women in our city. As a housekeeper with a family, and a resident of Richmond, and as a patron of its schools, and recognizing that our little city needs and demands a safer, saner, and better police protection than it has enjoyed for a number of years, I offer myself a candidate for the office of Chief of its Police force as above stated.

I make no criticisms of my opponents. If nominated I will be elected, and as the Chief of Police of Richmond, I shall fully discharge my obligations and faithfully perform every duty with justice to all; and although elected by the people, recognizing the fact that the Chief of Police, under the law, is subject to the higher commands of the mayor and council, I shall diligently enforce observance of the ordinances of the city and the laws of the commonwealth within the corporate limits, and will make persistent and continuous effort to eradicate and banish from our midst the immoral social plague spots of various kinds now existing within our city.

I assure you that I will do my utmost to guard and protect the good morals and health and property interests of our city, and that that end shall cause the entire police force to actively co-operate, but only in an advisory way, with the City Board of Health, the Street Department, the City School officers, churches and public charities, the county sheriff's office and all other similar public organizations.

In order to do this work and thereby benefit the citizenship, and satisfactorily discharge all other police duties imposed by law, the Chief of Police and his deputies (the latter appointed by the chief with the consent of the council) should and I promise they shall, daily police-visit every portion of the city—its remotest sections of "Darkest Africa" parts as well as around the city hall block, the court house square and the L. & N. railroad station.

This service myself and two or three deputies can and will perform. In every section, whether necessary or not, the taxpayer likes to at least occasionally see his or her police-servant on the job, passing about in the discharge of official duty, watching after the good and welfare of all within the limits of the city.

KNOCK FRANK OUT OF THE BOX

Richmond Then Smuggles Danville's Crack Ball Team Before a Big Throng

The Richmond ball team got to "Tot" Frank in the fourth inning and knocked him out of the box, winning the game from Danville on the Normal field Thursday by the score of 13 to 3. Jim Park pitched steady ball throughout the contest and held the Danville batsmen safe until the seventh when he saw the game was won. Not wishing to tire himself too much, he let the Danville nine score three runs which saved them from the humiliation of a shut-out. Richmond did not make a hit until the fourth when they combined five hits for three runs which started "Tot" Frank on the trail to defeat. Frank said after the game his arm developed a bad kink.

Combs and Lackey, who came from Harlan to play once more with their home team, each made three hits in five trips to the plate. All of Combs' hits were doubles. Combs pulled a fine catch in left field running at top speed for a long distance and then pulling down the fly by reaching forward with a great effort. J. Lackey made two nice plays at first.

Charley Rogers made a catch of the shoestring variety in the right garden for the second out in the third inning. Jim Parks and Lackey made a nice play in the fifth in catching Massingale off first. Lackey slipped in between and received Park's throw which was right to the spot and touched the runner who had taken twenty minutes for lunch.

Rohan played nicely at third for Danville and showed a good deal of stuff when he relieved Frank in the sixth.

"Red" Roberts hit center for ten yards when he was retired for the second man on a double play in the ninth inning. He tried to make home on an out at first, but instead of sliding he hit Hayes full force and went through for ten more yards.

The real Danville team showed up little better than the other team but the locals are now ready for some stronger team.

DAVE POWERS FOR POLICE JUDGE

To the Voters of the City of Richmond:—

In asking your support for the office of Police Judge of the city of Richmond, I do so with a full appreciation of the responsibility of the office. My one impelling motive is a desire to be of service to the good people of this community, and especially its youth who are growing up among environments which convict our Christian citizenship of gross indifference as to the enforcement of the law.

I do not think it necessary to enumerate or point out the different forms of lawlessness which exist in our midst. That crime and vice flourish is a matter of common knowledge, but this fact is not so serious as the fact that the inactive attitude of our good people condones or permits it.

Richmond needs an awakening of her public conscience. We need to stop and take stock of ourselves, and while at such a time many of us will review the past with much regret, yet if we believe in the Man of Galilee we can turn our faces to the future with the assurance that truth and right will prevail.

To crush crime means a fight. Are you willing to stand in the front lines? I am. My experience, my association, and my knowledge of the infested district qualify me to lead this fight. If elected as your Police Judge, I will call together a committee of citizens including the ministers, and in connection with the Chief of Police and Mayor we will map out a program the enforcement of which will make Richmond a better and a cleaner place in which to live.

If you give me your support Saturday, August 6, I will guarantee that we will make Richmond a dangerous place for criminals to attempt to apply their trade or profession.

Most sincerely yours,
It DAVE POWERS.

TO MY FRIENDS AND MY ASSOCIATES

I will not undertake to use weasel words in offering my services and time to the citizens of Richmond.

I have written a personal letter to almost every voter who will participate in tomorrow's primary; if I have failed to reach you, I will have the letter published here as follows:

I served 23 months in the World War, of which seventeen months was in France, and was deprived of my law practice, which was quite a setback.

I will appreciate your support and influence in my candidacy for the office of City Attorney, (said office is a stepping-stone for the young lawyer) and if nominated and elected I will faithfully discharge the duties of my office.

Respectfully,
EUGENE MOYNAHAN

Vote For Murray Smith Who Has Made Good As Police Judge

When the impartial chronicler shall have recorded the true character of the men who have been identified with the municipal government of Richmond, and to whom the greatest credit can be ascribed for the part taken in promoting order, and placing the town on a plane with the most law-abiding communities in the country, few will take precedence as a well-balanced and independent thinker, and a man of safe and mature judgment and astute knowledge of men, over Police Judge G. Murray Smith, who is a candidate for re-election to this important city office.

It can be safely stated that there are few, if any, men in the city of Richmond who possess a greater adaptability for this position, a keen insight into the temptations and trials of mankind, or who is possessed with the requisites to fill this office to the satisfaction of all concerned more than the subject of this brief sketch. The man who occupies the position of Police Judge should be one of unbiased opinions and convictions, free from petty prejudices and inclinations. In short, a broad-minded, resolute man; determined to do his duty as he sees it, of noble impulses, honest, and efficient.

Judge Smith is imbued with all these attributes, and his administration for the past four years has been a marked success. No one could have done more toward suppressing crime than has he through the co-operation of the efficient police department. Richmond is, today, one of the cleanest and most moral cities in the State of Kentucky. All credit is due Judge Smith for the results accomplished during his tenure of office. And if he is re-elected, he promises to give the citizens the same efficient service that has marked his administration in the past.

The poor and ignorant have found him to be lenient, kind-hearted and sympathetic judge, extending clemency when and where he thought it was not misplaced or abused; yet he has been faithful to his oath of office and meted out justice, to friend and foe alike, as his conscience dictated regardless of consequences.

The police court records will bear out the statement that the methods he has adopted, and put into practice, have been productive of better results and more far-reaching effect than vigorous, captious or invective methods could possibly have produced. Fearless in the discharge of his duties he has given the lawbreakers to understand what they may expect when brought into his court; hence, there is less crime and a greater reverence for the law than ever before in the history of Richmond, if police court records are a criterion, or an index of the morality of a town.

In Judge Smith's announcement he emphasized the fact that he has, with the aid of the police department, done all in his power to stamp out the whisky traffic and abolish the practice of carrying concealed weapons, the two offenses, he construes, as being the chief missionaries of crime, and if he is re-elected at the forthcoming Democratic primary, he will continue his policy and exert his best efforts to terminate unlawful practices to the end that Richmond will be as free of crime and lawlessness as it is possible for a city, of like population, to be.

If the voters elect Judge Smith for the ensuing term, they can depend upon the continued faithful and conscientious discharge of all duties devolving upon him through the administration of the office of Police Judge.
